Making a world of difference
Our people networks

Lee Ranson, CEO

“Diversity and inclusion is a core part of our strategy and how we ensure our purpose and values are brought to life. Building a culture which is inclusive, where everyone can bring their true selves to work and thrive, is crucial.

“I am committed to ensuring our culture encourages professional growth and values differences. I know we still have a lot of work to do and I am excited by the passion and engagement of our people. Together we can drive positive change across the firm and achieve our diversity and inclusion vision.”

Our people networks

Eversheds Sutherland’s people networks are colleague-led, firm-supported groups that serve as a two-way communication channel with senior management. Seeking and highlighting opportunities for intersectionality, the groups create a unified, inclusive and supportive workplace culture where everyone can be true to themselves and reach their full potential. In turn, they also help to achieve Eversheds Sutherland’s purpose which is, “to help our clients, our people and our communities to thrive”.

Providing peer support and a social network, the colleague-led groups build a sense of community across geographical boundaries and hundreds of our people across the globe have joined the networks. All of our networks are fully inclusive. They are open to our employees, our partners and anyone working at an Eversheds Sutherland location. On the following page, you can find out more information about the five people groups, established within Eversheds Sutherland International.

Gender Network

The Gender Network champions gender equality across Eversheds Sutherland, with clients and amongst the legal profession in general. The group acts as a think-tank, generating ideas to help propel Eversheds Sutherland's work in relation to gender. Members of the network attend events, network, and facilitate the sharing of ideas and experiences, as well as receiving updates on wider progress. The group also focuses on ways to help support working parents and drive positive change across the business. The Gender Network is open to everyone, irrespective of gender, and seeks to help address challenges that face colleagues of all genders.

Multi-Faith Forum

The Multi-Faith Forum's purpose is to ensure employees' values and beliefs are supported at work. The Forum also raises awareness, knowledge and mutual understanding of the teachings, traditions and practices of the different faith communities to enable us to have a more open and inclusive culture. The Forum is open to those of a faith (whether religious or philosophical) and of no faith.

Members of the network engage with colleagues, clients, and communities to help make further progress and support strategies aimed at recruiting, developing, promoting and retaining ethnically diverse talent. The network provides opportunities for colleagues to connect, build relationships and facilitate access to mentors and role models. The network is open for everyone to join.
