

Clever tools for the job

Commercial law updates by podcast

Learn about the latest changes in the commercial law landscape that may affect your business. Our podcasts keep you up to date with changes in legislation, case law and regulatory developments in the commercial context in a format that is easy to use and download. Click here to access an example.

These podcasts are just one part of what the Commercial team at Eversheds Sutherland can provide as training. For more information on our other offerings please click here to access our commercial training brochure.

If you would like to receive these podcasts on a regular basis, please contact your usual Eversheds Sutherland adviser or click here to email us.

eversheds-sutherland.com