Brexit planning and strategy

Our brexit legal and regulatory toolkit

Many of our clients' boards and senior leadership teams are rightly focusing on Brexit and the impact it may have on their businesses, supply chains, employees and other stakeholders.

We are advising our clients on their strategies in relation to Brexit and on a range of issues including:

keeping up with Brexit developments - negotiations and progress to date including: information on timing for passing of key UK legislation, progress on the future relationship, negotiations with the WTO and with countries to roll over existing free trade agreements advising on interim measures introduced by the UK Government customs and trade issues - including: tariffs, customs processes, contractual documents and pass through arrangements and Rules of Origin structural advice - ensuring business entities are fit for Brexit: this includes advising on UK legal entities that may not be recognised in some EU countries and could include moving assets and internal cross border mergers contract risk - looking at the impact of Brexit on existing contracts, advising on how to deal with Brexit in new contracts and dealing with supply chain challenges and queries intellectual property protection - intellectual property protection: reviewing IP portfolios to ensure that protection remains robust and strategies remain appropriate information and data privacy - considering which parts of clients' operations may be affected by proposed changes and identifying personal data flows between Europe and the UK labour law issues - looking at immigration/work permit/residency status/Tier 2 considerations, permanent establishment rights, right to work clauses, existing work force and potential restructuring around rightsizing to reflect the need to change the mix of workforces regulatory and sector specific issues - advising on regulation, compliance and logistics tax, VAT and duties issues - advising on tax, VAT and duties issues communication strategy - to employees, customers, suppliers, regulators and stakeholders
